MEDIA RELEASE

Six lawyers now personal injury specialists

Six lawyers from Maurice Blackburn are the newest members of the firm to be officially accredited as personal injury specialists.

Sarah Costanzo (Dandenong), Malcolm Cumming (Ringwood), Danny Frigerio (Sunshine), Salvatore Giandinoto (Reservoir), Dimi Ioannou (Melbourne) and Liberty Sanger (Reservoir) successfully passed the Law Institute of Victoria personal injury specialist accreditation exam and other assessments.

Maurice Blackburn Chief Executive Greg Tucker congratulated the lawyers on their achievements.

“Since its first assessments in 1993, the Law Institute of Victoria has only passed 73 lawyers until this year,” Mr Tucker said.

“All six Maurice Blackburn lawyers in Victoria who sat the rigorous testing this year passed the exams and are now accredited personal injury specialists.

“This means they join the ranks alongside the firm’s 10 other specialist accredited lawyers, bringing the total to 16 in Victoria who are experts you can count on if you have a traffic accident or workplace injury, if you experience medical negligence or if you have an issue to do with public or product liability.

“Maurice Blackburn has a strong ethos of standing up for the little guy, and these lawyers will be best placed to do just that.”
