Check your super for free.

If you or your partner have had to stop work because of injury, illness or any medical condition, you may be able to make a super claim.

Most superannuation funds have insurance that covers you for a TPD lump sum payout, which can help ease financial pressures if you have stopped working. It doesn't matter how you got sick, or whether your injury was work related.

Maurice Blackburn Lawyers have specialist superannuation insurance lawyers who can check your super for free.
